

Seattle Area Plumbing & Pipefitting Industry Health Trust

Comparison of Costs between the traditional PPO plan and Vera Whole Health Clinics

Vera Whole Health Clinics can provide you with many of your primary health care needs at no cost to you. Below is a comparison of your benefits if you use a Vera Whole Health Clinic vs other primary health care provider.

| Cost of Care                    |                                                               |                        |                               |
|---------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Service                         | Vera Whole Health Clinic's                                    | PPO (Network Provider) | PPO (Out-of-Network Provider) |
| Deductible                      | No Charge                                                     | $300                  | $300                         |
| Primary Care                    | No Charge                                                     | $20 Copay             | $40 Copay                    |
| Immunization                    | No Charge                                                     | No Charge              | $40 Copay                    |
| Lab Work                        | No Charge                                                     | 20% Coinsurance        | 40% Coinsurance               |
| Physicals and Health Screenings | No Charge                                                     | No Charge              | $40 Copay                    |
| Prescription Drugs              | No Charge for prescriptions filled at Vera's on-site Pharmacy | Pharmacy Copays        | Same as in-network.           |